

NELSON WESTERBERG, INC. AGENCIES WIN 2008

MILTON M. HILL QUALITY AWARD

ELK GROVE VILLAGE, Ill. (Nov. 9, 2008) – Nelson Westerberg, Inc., one of the longest-established corporate, domestic and military relocation providers in the U.S. founded in 1904, today announced that four Nelson Westerberg agencies in Illinois, Georgia, New Jersey and Texas were bestowed the acclaimed Milton M. Hill Quality Award by Atlas Van Lines.

“Nelson Westerberg strives for highest achievement in quality services delivery, and when all four of our qualified agents are recognized for this service excellence, we acknowledge the effort it takes to attain this goal,” said John Westerberg, Chairman and CEO of Nelson Westerberg.

One of the transportation industry's most distinguished performance awards; the Milt Hill Quality Award has been presented annually by Atlas Van Lines since 1996. Agents who earn the award demonstrate a commitment to superior warehouse and hauling operations, as well as to excellence in 12 criteria that measure quality, including:

- Superior warehouse rating – Recipients must earn high scores in surprise inspections that measure organization, security, risk management and overall impression.
- Hauling excellence – Agents qualify for this award based on customer service provided by their van operators and by meeting hauling revenue requirements.
- World-class commitment – Recipients are measured on 12 standards, including customer service, customer satisfaction, estimating accuracy, claims ratio and compliance with Atlas' standards of excellence.

"All Atlas agents are committed to raising the bar on customer service," said Greg Hoover, president and chief operating officer of Atlas World Group. "So this award acknowledges the highest tier – those agents that consistently exceed our quality and service excellence measures, just as Milt Hill did."
